Have One Doctor

No sense in running from one doctor to another. Select the best one, then stand by him. Do not delay, but consult him in time when you are sick. Ask his opinion of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and colds. Then use it or not, just as he says.

Ayer's

We publish our formulas. We banish ailments from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor.

Always keep a box of Ayer's Pills in the house. Just one pill at bedtime, now and then, will ward off many an attack of biliousness, indigestion, sick headache. How many years has your doctor known these pills? Ask him all about them.

HERE AND THERE

W. C. Kelly, whom many in Berea will remember as a student here, writes from Osmond, Nebraska, telling of his success. He has recently gone to that place as pastor of the M. E. Church there, after a three years pastorate at Page. He has received another good offer, but decided not to leave the part of the state where he is. While at Page he had forty confessions and received thirty-four into the church, raised for church benevolences $626 and for improvements $800. He asks to be remembered in the prayers of the Berea people.

Arch Clark, who recently went to Colorado for his health, returned to Berea Monday. Arch will make his home in Berea for the present. It may be news to many of his old friends that he was married to Miss Hattie Beatty last August.

A letter came this week from Clark Hylton, who is teaching in Knott County. He writes that he and his sister Belle and his brothers Frank and Jesse have been conducting a Sunday School near their home. It is a pleasure to know that our boys get into Sunday School work when they leave Berea.

Albert E. Winship of Boston, Mass., with Prof. Roark, of Richmond, Ky., were College visitors last Friday.

Mr. Hudson preached at the Parish House Sunday morning. The subject of his sermon was "Prayer."

Prof. Raine preached at United Chapel Sunday night.

The Music Department gave a recital at the Chapel Wednesday night at 3:30 o'clock. Only the students taking music were present.

Miss Della Smith, teacher, who was ill the past week, was able to take up her duties Monday.

Mrs. Jennie Lester Hill and Miss Bowersox returned last week from a ten days' trip in the interests of the College.

Prof. Rumold gave the Monday lecture on "Real Life."

Prof. C. D. Lewis returned Tuesday from a ten days' trip.

Edith Frost, who is recovering from scarlet fever at the General Hospital at Greenwich, Conn., has received many letters from friends here in Berea, but has been unable to answer them because of the danger of sending the disease in any letters going out of the sick room. So she has sent this letter, dictated to her mother who was outside:

General Hospital, Greenwich, Conn., November 17, 1907.

Dear Friends:—

I thank you for your letters. I have read them more than once. This morning I read them all to mamma through the window.

I can't send out letters for fear they may carry scarlet fever, so I am dictating this through the window. There are eight children in the hospital with scarlet fever. We play games and visit.

I have been here three weeks. I am afraid I shall not be out for Thanksgiving.

I am having quite a good time for being sick.

Love to all,

Edith Frost.

P. S.—The above letter gives little idea of Edith's joy over her letters. I stood on the top round of a ladder with my ear against the window pane while she read twenty-one letters. As she finished each, she would exclaim, "Isn't that fine!" "Isn't that just like her!"

The news and the cheering voices of the dear Berea friends did me good too.

Edith's Mother.

IN OUR OWN STATE

B. F. French Trial On At Beattyville—Tobacco War Crisis Near—Louisville Strike Drags on.

Outside of the Powers trial, which is reported in another column, the most important happening of the week has been the beginning of the B. F. French trial at Beattyville, for the alleged shooting of Dr. Cox. A special venire was summoned from Madison County, and tho the Commonwealth at first objected to it, on the ground that too many Democrats had been summoned, the attorney later withdrew the objection, and the venire was accepted. The jury was then selected and the taking of testimony was begun.

A crisis seems near in the tobacco war. It is a question of whether the trust or the association can hold out the longest, and probably neither can hold out long. There is little cash to be had, and conditions in the tobacco market are unsettled, so that either side may be forced to give in at any time now. Meanwhile the fight has gone on about as usual. The "peaceful" army has invaded Grayson County, a barn near Hardinsburg has been burned, and other similar things have been done. The movement against planting any crop next year is growing. The Green River District Association has voted not to do so, and at a meeting of independents at Mt. Sterling similar action was taken.

The Louisville strike has dragged along, with the strikers apparently losing, but making a great deal of trouble for all the people living in that city. Cars have been run pretty regularly during parts of the day on some lines, but the service has been very poor. The end of the strike is not in sight.

The opening of the hunting season has resulted in the usual number of people being killed. The most important man killed was W. F. Booker, a well known Louisville merchant, who was shot by his own gun. Several other men have been shot, some by close friends.

It was officially announced in Lexington Sunday by the directors of the Union Bank and Trust Company, that the cash of the bank had been found short $19,277.90. E. R. Baker, assistant cashier of the bank, acknowledged to the directors that he had taken the money and had lost it in gambling in the bucketshops. The directors have made up the defalcation and the bank opened Monday as usual.

Dr. Humphrey Bennett, aged seventy, and Mrs. Mamie Chenault, aged forty-three were married in Richmond last week. Both parties are highly connected and well known throughout the state.

John C. Morgan, a former U. S. Marshall, who was serving out a fine of $425 in Richmond for illegal liquor selling, gave his guards the slip last week and escaped.

One of the most sensational shooting affrays in the history of Laurel County occurred in London last week when Jas. Sparks, former county commonwealth attorney and one of the best known lawyers in the state, was shot and instantly killed. The shooting was done in the Circuit Clerk's office by Robert Boyd, Jr., Master Commissioner of the Laurel Circuit Court, and one of the rising young lawyers of the state. Court was in session and hundreds of people swarmed around the dead man and created a panic. The shooting is said by eyewitness to have been on slight provocation, due to a petty quarrel over a settlement Boyd was making in a suit in which Sparks represented one side. Boyd surrendered to the sheriff and was taken to jail.

Prof. S. L. Chandler, a teacher in the New Castle High School, was taken seriously ill with smallpox while he was in the school room, and it is feared that many cases among the children he was teaching will follow.

The Court of Appeals decided that national banks in this state will have to pay taxes on the government bonds that they hold. The case has been a hard fought one and will mean a pretty heavy loss to the banks.

Miss Annie Leoble, a German girl, reached Frankfort early last week to marry William Leoble, a sweetheart that she had not seen for years. She could not speak a word of English, and the bridegroom had to interpret to her everything that the preacher said in marrying them.

Henry E. Youtsey has petitioned Gov. Beckham to pardon him before he goes out of office. The governor has told him, he says, that his pardon will receive only the same consideration that the thousand others are before him will.

A boy of fifteen shot and killed a negro who threw pepper in his eyes and tried to rob him, in Georgetown early last week.
